Meditation JOEL R. BEEKE

“When God made covenants with people in time, such as David, those covenants were primarily with Christ, of whom David was a type (Ps. 89:20-27). In the counsel of peace, God promised to his Son the grace and glory that will be granted both to him and those in union with him (Ps. 110:1-4)—the grace and glory promised in the covenant of grace. The covenant of grace, with its promise of salvation by grace apart from our works, stands upon God’s eternal counsel of Christ’s redeeming work.”

Call to Worship * PSALM 31:7-8; 30:11-12

Pastor: Rejoice and be glad in God’s steadfast love, because he has seen your affliction; he has known the distress of your soul, and he has not delivered you into the hand of the enemy; he has set your feet in a broad place.

People: You have turned for me my mourning into dancing; you have loosed my sackcloth and clothed me with gladness, that my glory may sing your praise and not be silent. O Lord my God, I will give thanks to you forever!
